FOUR FLIERS OVER ATLANTIC OCEAN

COMPANION HEAT WAVE WOUNDED, MAY DIE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 21.—While attempting to rob the State bank of Moore, 11 miles south of here, one bandit was killed and his partner probably fatally wounded. The two men were shot by an armed attack who was posted in the back room of the bank.

Early this afternoon, the two bandits entered the bank and ordered the bookkeeper, Ott Hayes, to hold up his hands. Instead of complying with the order, Hayes knocked one of the men down. The guard then opened fire, shooting both men before they had a chance to leave the bank.

The dead man was identified as Robert Yon and his companion as A. C. Hettley. The two men drove about town in an automobile shortly before entering the bank and aroused suspicions of the townspeople.

The bookkeeper and the guard were prepared for the entry of the bandits. The guard took up his position out of sight in the rear of the bank and upon the pre-arranged signal from Hayes, fired upon the robbers. Yon was almost instantly killed. Hettley was captured and taken to the local hospital where he was placed under guard.

HEAT WAVE SHATTERS RECORDS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—The entire state was struck by heat wave today, with records being shattered.

San Francisco recorded one of the hottest days of the year when the mercury hit 95 degrees, breaking only five of the records the month's record which was set on June 29, 1891.

No heat restrictions were reported at the emergency hospital. The weather bureau says the heat wave is lower today than on Thursday.

One death was reported from the heat at San Luis Obispo where the mercury hit 105 degrees. John Kouferman, a road camp convict worker, died.

Modesto reported a temperature of 101, a rise of five degrees above the day before.

Sacramento had its hottest day in seven years—107 degrees for two successive days.

How long the hot spell will last the weather officials are unable to predict. It may continue over the week-end and then again it may break suddenly any day.

After leaving the Portuguese cape—the last land point they planned to pass—Commander (Continued on Page 8)

HEAT RECORD BROKEN HERE

All heat records for 17 years were broken here yesterday; two persons succumbed to the heat and numerous grass fires occupied the attention of the Richmond Fire department.

R. J. Lavery, Standard Oil meteorologist reported that at 2:45 yesterday afternoon the thermometer hit 102 degrees, the hottest since 1912, when the temperature hit 100 degrees.

Lavery's instruments are approved by the United States weather bureau and his reports are official.

Two Hit
The two persons who were given hospital treatment were Joseph Madera, an employee of the Standard Oil tank farm north of this city, and Peter Salom, working at the old Western Pipe and Steel plant here.

Madera was given first aid treatment by fellow-workers and was then removed to his home. Salom was rushed to the Cottage hospital where he is recovering from the effects of the stroke.

Many Fires
During the day the Richmond fire department answered more than five alarms and battled for more than two hours a grass fire that raged on Nichol nob in the western section of the city.

In El Cerrito the volunteer fire department battled severe grass fires during the day.

Starting with a temperature of 70 degrees the day rapidly grew warmer. At noon the thermometer stood at 95 with the heat rapidly increasing. The mercury finally touched 102 in the afternoon and then sank back to 98 when a slight breeze came from the bay.

During the day the Richmond municipal natatorium was crowded with bathers and hundreds who could not gain admission at the pool went to the bay shore where they enjoyed a swim.

Children donned their bathing suits and played beneath a stream of water from the hose. Even the family pup, seeking relief from the sweltering heat, enjoyed a wetting.

The weather man promises relief for today, declaring that it will be slightly cooler.

But the same weather man promised relief yesterday.

STEARNS LEAVE
Harry A. Stearns, 550 Fifth street, will leave Richmond tonight for Big Rapids, Mich., to visit his parents. He will stop at Detroit and Chicago and expects to be gone three weeks.

NEW GAS CO. ASKS LINE PERMIT

Declaring that it can serve industrial and domestic consumers of the Bay district with natural gas at prices "ridiculously low" in comparison with present scattered, uncoordinated efforts of the Western Natural Gas company, organized before the state railroad commission in support of their petition to construct lines.

While the new company does not plan to bring its lines into San Francisco, it has offered to turn over the Pacific Gas and Electric company with a service which will permit that company serving a straight natural gas. This would permit the same service in Contra Costa county since the Pacific Gas and Electric company now serves the Coast Gas and Electric company's customers in this county.

Contracts have already been signed with Standard Oil refiners in Elkhart to supply 15,000 feet of gas a day, at 15 cents per thousand feet.

The company is seeking permission from the railroad commission to construct lines from the Kettleman Hills and Bakersfield to the Eastbay.

Rejection of a "natural gas war" in Contra Costa county is substantiated in testimony presented at the hearing. The Western Natural Gas company offered to wholesale natural gas to the Coast Gas company for 24 cents per thousand cubic feet. The company is now paying the Pacific Gas and Electric company 60 cents a thousand feet for manufactured gas of half the heating elements of natural gas, company officials stated.

THE WOMAN OF IT

BY MARGUERITE MOORE MARSHALL

HOW TO CHEAT THE DIVORCE COURT

ALWAYS remember that a husband no woman would flit with is not worth keeping in captivity. It is only natural that those qualities which have attracted you to him might attract other women.

Do not expect your husband to play the part of a lion. He satisfied if he plays the part of a good husband. He will not play the part of a lion.

Never play partner with your husband at bridge. Let him play the part of a lion. He will not play the part of a lion.

Do not strain your imagination to fathom your husband's mind—just read what men are simple.

The best scheme to keep a husband at home is to keep him broke.

Your in-laws look at you at a distance from the kitchen sink.

Never let your husband grow too certain of your affection.

Try not to let your husband catch you in an erroneous statement. To this end, speak as little as possible.

Never say "don't" to him. Let him run into a state wall occasionally and find out a few things for himself.

Do not yield to curiosity by trying to meet your husband's former sweethearts. If you happen to meet them, do not cultivate their friendship. In fact, the fewer women you have around him, the better.

Do not clutter up your husband's brain with things not essential for his peace of mind, such as names of your birthday and wedding anniversary are just "days" in his calendar.

Do not talk about your worries at the dinner table. Make him talk of his.

Do not sweep dust into corners or under the rug for your husband will find it eventually.

Finally, remember that no man is entirely beyond reproach. Hence do not hire a detective to shadow him.

Develop a forgiving nature, for you will often need it.

"Patient" Is the Word

A WOMAN cannot help wondering whether the word "patient" as applied to persons dependent on the care of physicians, was not first used to designate women passing through the ordeal of per-parturition. That "patient" is the most correct of descriptive terms for such women must be impressed anew on those who happen to peruse a history of medicine.

"Birth," says Dr. Richard H. Hoffmann, distinguished New York neurologist, in his comprehensive and pretentious new book, "The Struggle for Health," had been a most mysterious and perplexing phenomenon to early man.

Midwives have been around pretty much to themselves over countless centuries. And if there be one instance where blurring criticism can be directed at women it is in the figure, this is it.

Amazing and incredible though it seems, women completely failed to take any step that would aid their fellow women and themselves at this crucial event. In all the thousands of years during which agony and death were observed in a thousand ways, no woman invented a contrived any in-patient or instrument intended to lessen the pain attendant to childbirth, or to make it a safer experience.

But it seems distinctly unfair to blame the early midwives for failure to aid their patients, when the medical profession, until a few years ago, set its face sternly against all opportunity for scientific medical training for women. Plenty of men doctors, even now, regard women doctors with a distinct lack of enthusiasm.

WOMEN engaged in the business of giving life have had to be very "patient" with their men doctors. Dr. Hoffmann himself tells of the appalling mortality among mothers

THE FARMER'S Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

IT SEEMS to me that in this delirious age of ours the thing for us to do is to remember that there is such a word as MODERATION and that the practice of it has a lot to do with our health, wealth and prosperity.

If coffee hurts you and you are sure it does, why not be a moderate coffee drinker?

If eating distresses you, why eat so much?

If you want to have a good time, why not be moderate?

Avoid extremes in everything, including thinking.

People who think too much about one certain line are called extremists.

Those who go along the even tenor of their way are called WELL-BALANCED. They are the people who are moderate in all things.

Whip cream in a pitcher instead of a bowl—it will cream more quickly and will not spatter.

When making lemon pie and the egg whites will not stiffen for the meringue add one tablespoonful cold water and beat well, then add one teaspoonful of sugar and a few drops of lemon juice or extract, and beat well.

When coconut becomes dry and hard place it in a sieve and steam a little while, but be sure it is cold before using it.

Raspberry vinegar makes a cooling summer drink and is easily made. Just cover the berries with vinegar, and after three days strain and squeeze out the juice, add one-half pound sugar to each pint of juice and boil down rather thick, then bottle. When serving use one-third glassful and fill the glass with cold water.

An Anti-American

At Rheims, in the beautiful Cathedral, Lacabane prayed God: "Lord, Thou who inspired Jeanne d'Arc to drive the English from France, inspire me with a way for driving out these Americans who wish to humiliate us under their money yoke!" With these words began the election manifesto of a candidate for municipal honors in Rheims. Let us say at the outset that the man received nineteen votes. He was not a Communist, this M. Paul Lacabane, but a Nationalist Christian, which seems to be a sort of one-man party. Here is a representative stanza from his rhymed appeal:

Everywhere and at all times—night and day—let Americans be treated like dogs. Let their products be refused everywhere; their films be chased to the devil; their kings of oil, iron and steel, despite their power, be completely ruined. Let that country, stuffed to bursting with gold, be scourged by revolution, honeycombed with Soviet societies, so that we may see at last, timidly trembling, these masters of the dollar, bloated with pride. They wish to impose themselves everywhere; let them be chased off everywhere like dogs.

Dead Sea Concession

Let's wife would have been a little astonished, no doubt, if, before she looked back and made her own contribution to the mineral riches of the Dead Sea, she could have looked forward to the day when industrial magnates such as Lord Melchett and Lord Inverforth would contend for the right to gather Dead Sea salts and plant them on the markets of the world in competition with the German and Alsatian potash products.

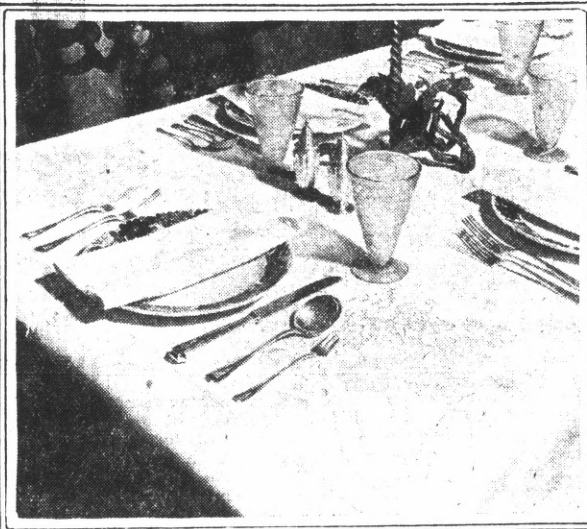

For the moment this struggle for the Dead Sea concession, which dates from pre-war days, is settled. An agreement was signed at the Colonial Office in London between representatives of the Government of Palestine and Transjordan and the representatives of the British subject and M. Moses Novomirsky, a Russian Jew now domiciled in Palestine.

The work of extracting the salts is expected to commence in September. Before many years have passed it is possible that the Dead Sea will be producing vast quantities of invaluable salts. But there are many difficulties to be overcome. The granting of this concession is a matter of international interest. In the first place, the two countries with boundaries on the Dead Sea, Trans-

Tales That Tables Tell

WITH the arrival of June and its gay group of brides and brides-to-be comes the delightful necessity of entertaining for the assembly. Luncheons, dinners, breakfasts follow rapidly and in smart confusion.

And whether we have joined in this perennial outcropping of festivities, or are merely planning to have a quiet group of friends in for bridge, the question of what to do and what to serve can be decided only after having chosen the correct accessories upon which the entertainment depends for its success.

We have never outgrown the habit of sitting the design of appointments to the occasion for which they are to be used. In fact, we could not forget it if we would—for there is fashion, forever at our heels to jog us up if in an unguarded moment we seem in danger of backsliding.

Not so long ago, you remember, the bride's party table carried embellishments of the most obvious sort—place cards and favors featuring the event in terms of kindergarten simplicity; ribbon streamers and floral decorations, seashell and star.

To-day sophistication does the trick more subtly, perhaps through one element alone suggesting the bridal motif.

In the setting illustrated, for example—a table laid for a shower luncheon—the linen damask cloth tells the story of the function. Almost classic in design, its corner motif shows a Greek urn with a profusion of flowers, the handles held on each side by fat little cherubs who dangle garlands from the other hand. A delicate scroll outlines the plan, a daisied center of the cloth and ties the four corner motifs together. It is particularly well chosen for all functions in honor of bridal parties—this foundation which still remains equally smart for all other occasions.

Following the picture further, we find other appointments quite as interesting. This being a Spanish dining room, goblets of bubbly Spanish glass in palest sea foam green are used with china having a floral pattern in which green, mauve and deep rose are present. In all details a thoroughly modern use of color and design is shown, suggesting deftly instead of proclaiming loudly the sentimental background of the occasion.

Cliffon Handkerchiefs, designed to carry with the formal costume, are developed in the new spring color, a particularly attractive one combines aubergine and lapis.

It Is Said—Black stockings should always be rinsed in blue water to preserve the color.

An after dinner mint placed in the centre of grape fruit when ready to serve it, gives a delicious flavor.

A teaspoonful of salt added to the water in which apples are peeled will keep them from turning dark for several hours.

Chiffon Handkerchiefs, designed to carry with the formal costume, are developed in the new spring color, a particularly attractive one combines aubergine and lapis.

MUSINGS ON MENUS

MODERNISTIC BY NANCY DORRIS

The friendly June sun hastens the ripening of the luscious, woody-flavored huckleberry and blueberry. Wild berries as well as the cultivated varieties mean a favorite American summer pastry.

From the beginning until the end of the berry season, different versions of the pastry are enjoyed from coast to coast. According to the old cook-books, huckleberry pie belongs to the country, and blueberry pie belongs to the town.

In some sections of the country open-faced pies and even tarts tickle the palate; in others the juicy berries must be artfully concealed beneath a flaky upper crust or a brown lattice work. Deep dish huckleberry pie with whipped cream or ice cream is the choice in still other communities.

Whatever the form huckleberry pie takes, the control of the juice that flows from the berries during baking is all-important. A soggy undercrust and an unsightly oven must be prevented by some precautions against overflow.

A very hot oven for the first twenty minutes and some thickening agent combined with the sugar make for a docile berry pie. The extreme heat sets the crust and the thickening does much toward rendering the crust impervious to the juice.

The modernistic and quickly prepared pastry is the one crust.

HUCKLEBERRY PIE Three cups huckleberries One-half cup sugar or more Three tablespoons cornstarch One tablespoon flour One-eighth teaspoon salt One tablespoon butter One tablespoon lemon juice (optional) One large uncooked crust

When tartness is desired the lemon juice, or six green grapes are welcome additions to the berries. The crust should not be filled too generously hence the suggestion that three cups of berries be used for a large pie.

In making and baking the pie the following culinary tools and utensils will be found useful: measuring cup, colander, tablespoon, teaspoon, bowl, pie plate or tin, sharp knife, thermometer, clock.

Line the pie plate with uncooked crust, rather thicker than usual. Flute the edges well with thumb and forefinger. Set in icebox to chill for two hours or more. Advance lining of pie plate speeds up last minute preparations.

Wash, pick over and drain the berries well. Excess moisture only adds to their juiciness, remember. Mix together in the bowl the cornstarch, flour, salt and sugar. Light the oven, and add the drained berries over it. Dot with butter. Add the lemon juice if tartness is desired. The oven should be very hot when the pie goes in, 450 degrees at least.

Let the pie bake at this high temperature for twenty minutes, when the fluting of the crust should begin to brown. Reduce the heat to moderate and let bake for twenty-five more minutes. Mix the berries and thickening gently once during this time. At the end of the baking time, turn out the pie, but let the pie stand in the oven five or ten minutes.

A fresh tasting berry pie with nicely thickened juice rewards the cook. Good hot and good cold, the pie is crisp of crust and not too sweet. Some like plain white others demand a puff of whipped or ice cream.

A Vacation at Home

JUST because a housewife cannot go away on a vacation is no reason why she cannot have a restful time at home and call it a vacation. Surely no one would object to this, and no doubt every member of the family would gladly fall in with the new arrangement.

The first step to a vacation at home is to minimize the home work. This need not necessarily upset the household routine nor inconvenience the family. No considerate wife and mother would do that anyway.

Of course you have dismantled the rooms of heavy and superfluous hangings and bric-a-brac. The silverware is stored for the summer; the overstuffed furniture looks cool and cheerful in its bright chintz slips; the fancy silk lamp shades that require frequent careful dusting have been replaced by those inexpensive but attractive shades that are quickly dusted.

If that is all done the housewife's vacation has really begun, for keeping the house clear is a comparatively simple task now and can be speedily accomplished.

In putting the home in summer dress there is always the danger of overdoing this and completely destroying the home atmosphere. Keep your home simple but attractive during the summer, so it will continue to be the social center of your family.

Every housewife deserves a vacation, and this can and should begin right now and continue throughout the summer. It is just up to her to plan it and carry it out.

Towel Designs Amusing

SOME understanding soul must have created the designs for new bath mats and Turkish towels—for not only have they backgrounds of spring color in shades of green, mauve, maize and rose, but motifs themselves turn to all manner of sprightly themes for inspiration.

And we have a rollicking dolphin disporting himself across the bath towel; swans sailing gracefully across them; such subtle suggestions of spring and summer as the katydid, and what we take to be the humming bird!

Pleasing color does indeed have power to soothe ruffled early-morning spirits; naive design is always amusing. And since most of us need as much help in this direction as it is possible to have—these decorative notes find themselves most welcome in the routine of making ready for the day.

FEW PERFECT FEET SAYS SHOE MAN

Though most of us dodge reading figures and statistics, yet they yield some interesting facts. Do you know that something like 90 percent of the men examined for the United States Army in the draft, had some foot defect?

When asked about the figures today, Theodore Barbikas of the B. & B. Shoe store said:

"Those figures are true, and they apply to everybody, possibly more so to women than to men. Many people have foot troubles, and really don't know it. They accept their corns, bunions, painful callouses, fallen arches, painful heels, sweaty feet, as a matter of course. When we fit them with the right kind of shoes, or in some cases, light appliances they are astonished at the immediate relief and wonder why they have gone so long in discomfort."

"The last few days we have relieved many number of people because this is Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Week and we are giving a free demonstration of Dr. Scholl's methods of foot correction."

He then explained that Foot Comfort Week was an event in which leading shoe dealers all over the United States and Canada participated. Millions of people, he said, suffering with all sorts of foot trouble had found relief in some Dr. Scholl remedy or appliance.

Fittings at the store, he said, were in charge of a foot comfort expert who had been especially trained in Dr. Scholl's methods.

When asked as to the proportion of good feet to feet with some foot ailment in this vicinity, he said it was about the same as in other parts of the country. Only three people in ten have normal feet.

Dr. Scholl, he said, had studied feet for years and as a result has invented and perfected an appliance or remedy for every form of foot trouble.

Great interest, he said, had been taken in Dr. Scholl's Pedograph at the store. This machine, he stated, gave a wonderful picture of the foot when a person pressed the stockinged foot on it. It is one of the scientific means used by the trained foot expert in detecting arch trouble.

Breed Dogs To Protect Sheep In Montana

LIVINGSTON, Mont., June 21.—Experiments in breeding dogs that are hoped to result in more efficient coyote hunters are being conducted by ranchers in this vicinity. Irish and Russian wolf hounds, greyhounds, crossbred staghounds and greyhounds have been showing the most ability in protection of sheep.

Five dogs on the A. G. Deput ranch, seven miles up the Yellowstone river from here, have "brought in the scalps" of 17 coyotes and two bobcats this winter. One of the dogs came from the Amos Close pack of Lander, Wyo., and is reputed to have participated in 300 "kills" before being brought to the Deput ranch.

Freak Accident Brings Reunion Of War Buddies

SIOUX CITY, Neb., June 21.—After ten years of separation two war-time "buddies" were united in Sioux City recently, and all because one of them, George Morter, was showered by 20 tons of coal.

When William Murray read of Morter's unusual misfortune he recalled that he had served overseas with a man by the same name and then served with him again in the Army of Occupation. Murray went to the hospital where Morter was confined. There they held a joyful reunion.

ARNOLD, STAR WILL WED AGAIN

HOLLYWOOD, June 21.—UP—Priscilla Dean, film actress, and Lieke Arnold, found the world fier, will separate temporarily, but intend to marry again as soon as the law will permit, they said today after learning that an Atlanta, Ga., court had held Arnold's divorce from his first wife illegal.

"There seems nothing else for us to do but part for a while if the law says we aren't legally married, but we'll marry all over again as soon as we are allowed to," the actress said.

They returned home from a trip today and became aware of the court's ruling. Arnold obtained his divorce in Atlanta four years ago. His first wife persuaded the court this week that he had not given her a chance to oppose his action and the decree was set aside. Arnold married Miss Dean last September.

Arnold and Miss Dean took the matter philosophically. Miss Dean said she had heard first Mrs. Arnold might take action next fall, but that the pressing of the case now had been unexpected.

"I think she is animated only by a desire for publicity," the actress said. "She had four years to have the divorce set aside and didn't do it until now."

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And it works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

RADICAL CHANGES MADE IN STATE MOTOR VEHICLE ACTS

Radical changes in state motor vehicle regulations will be placed in effect in the state of California after Aug. 13, when the amendment to the California vehicle act and the civil code becomes effective.

The amendments will require owners and operators of motor vehicles within the state and by resident motorists of the state any where in the county to give proof of their financial ability to satisfy claims on account of personal injury to members of the public or damage to the property of others.

All licenses and registrations of the owners and operators who are financially unable to satisfy any judgment rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction for damages on account of personal injury to members of the public or damage to the property of others will be suspended and will remain so until proof of financial ability to satisfy future judgments is shown by the chief of the division of motor vehicles.

The new provision in the vehicle act will affect California motorists all over the United States as well as in California or any other states.

This proof of financial responsibility will be required to the extent of a least $5000 for the personal injury or death of any persons or at least $10,000 for the injury or death of two persons.

However, owners and operators, will be able to furnish proof of their future financial ability by getting bond from a surety company authorized to do business in the state, by a bond of individual surety, approved by a judge of a court of record, or by making a cash deposit of $1000 with the state treasurer.

Automobile casualty insurance enables an owner or operator of a car to satisfy judgment up to the specified amount and term of the policy.

Attention has been called to the amendment to the civil code which makes the owner of a motor vehicle primarily responsible for the injuries or damages resulting from the operation of the car.

The amendment also stipulates that the operator of the vehicle shall be made party defendant in a suit whether the death or injury of persons or damage to property has been caused by the negligence of such operator. In any such action, the judgment rendered shall first be against the operator and if recovery has to be made against the owner, the latter then has the right to recover from the operator. This amendment is made to apply to all owners and operators, irrespectively of whether the latter was using the car with permission expressed or implied, whether for business or otherwise, except when there is a relation of principal and agent or master and servant between the operator and owner.

Whipping Post Asked For Sex Crimes In N. Y.

NEW YORK, June 21.—UP—A bill to provide the whipping post as a penalty for sex crimes may be introduced at the next session of the state legislature, it was disclosed today.

Three of the five members of the state crime commission favored institution of the whipping post at a meeting here. A fourth member opposed it. The fifth, chairman Baumes, author of the Baumes law providing for life imprisonment upon a fourth conviction of felony did not vote because he was presiding.

State Senator Love introduced the proposal at the commission's meeting, and urged its approval. "The increase in sex crimes is unbelievably enormous," he declared. "Many such crimes are caused merely as misadventure. Criminals of this type, many of whom escape with only a few days' beating in jail, can be cured only by fear—and the fear of physical hurt is paramount in them."

MEXICO, R. C. CHURCH END DISPUTE

MEXICO CITY, June 21.—UP

The Mexican religious "noblemen" which has resulted in widespread controversy and bloodshed throughout the republic in the last three years, was settled today by an accord between the government and representatives of the Holy See at Rome.

The government and church representatives issued a joint statement announcing the settlement.

The statement, signed by President Portes Gil and Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Flores, announced that the government promises church freedom within the law in the exercise of spiritual office.

The government agrees that the government will not interfere with any authorized priest.

The religious instructions may be permitted within the churches. That the government will consider any amendments to the constitution for which Catholics, as citizens of the republic, have a right to petition.

YALE WINS IN HARVARD RACE

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21—UP—Yale's crew swept steadily over the calm waters of the Thames river here tonight to an easy victory over Harvard in a colorless renewal of the annual Yale-Harvard varsity boat race. Harvard, starting out on even terms, rowed its heart away for the first two miles, leading on even terms with its rival. Then Yale speeded up its stroke. Harvard could not meet the challenge and the race was as good as over.

The time was 21 minutes, 26 seconds, a few time considering the seemingly excellent conditions under which the race was rowed.

The varsity race gave Yale its third victory of the day. In the morning its freshman and then its junior varsity crews met and defeated Harvard. It was estimated that 80,000 people watched from the observation trains, from boats, and from points of vantage along the shore. The progress of the race SEAPLANE CRASHES INTO FINISH BOAT

FOUR FLIERS ENROUTE TO NEW YORK

Franco and his companions left a 1935 motor plane for the Azores over the Atlantic ocean. They hoped to complete the first leg of their trip several hours after dawn on Monday.

A clear, moonlight sky with a slight breeze prevailed in the vicinity of the Azores island and there was no indication that the big seaplane had encountered unfavorable weather enroute.

PICK UP EARLY

ROYALTY BIDS GOODBYE TO ADVENTUROUS MEN

CARTAGENA, Spain, June 21.—(UP)—Commander Ramon Franco, one of Spain's most famous fliers, and three companions in a two-motored Dornier whale hydroplane were out over the Atlantic ocean tonight on a projected flight to New York, via the Azores islands.

Franco took off from the seaplane base at Alcazar at 4:19 p. m. (10:49 a. m. E. S. T.). He was reported heading out to sea from Tarifa near Gibraltar, at 7:30 p. m., flying west through misty weather. The plane was making about 60 miles an hour.

A radio message received at Madrid from the plane said that it subsequently passed near Huelva, on the Gulf of Cadiz, near the Portuguese frontier, at 8:59 p. m. (2:30 p. m. E. S. T.). Franco added that the flight thus far had been without incident.

The Spanish fliers, who abandoned a projected flight around the world for their present venture, will attempt to break the hydroplane record for speed with a heavy load. They first hope to cover the 2391 miles from the Azores to New York in 23 hours, after refueling at the islands.

Near Azores
They expect to reach the Azores—about 1366 miles from here—a few hours after dawn Saturday.

Franco's companions are Capt. Ruiz de Alca, Commander Gallarza and Mechanic Madariagan. Franco successfully flew across the south Atlantic from Palos, Spain, to Buenos Aires, in 1926.

The departure of Franco and his companions was comparatively sudden, although they had been preparing for a flight for several weeks. The government announced last night that permission had been granted for the projected flight.

Weather Bad
Unfavorable weather conditions around the Straits of Gibraltar prompted them to delay departure until this afternoon, at which time they said they expected to take advantage of the full moon to aid them in crossing the ocean.

The Infanta Alfonso was present to bid them farewell, but the large crowd which gathered to witness the departure was not given much information about the flight.

Round Trip
The big plane soared away along the Mediterranean coast line. It reached Gibraltar some three hours later. From Gibraltar the fliers headed out to sea, turning slightly northward towards the Azores.

Their schedule calls for an 18-hour stop at the Azores although Franco may depart from the islands for New York earlier if weather conditions are good. He will attempt to fly direct to New York.

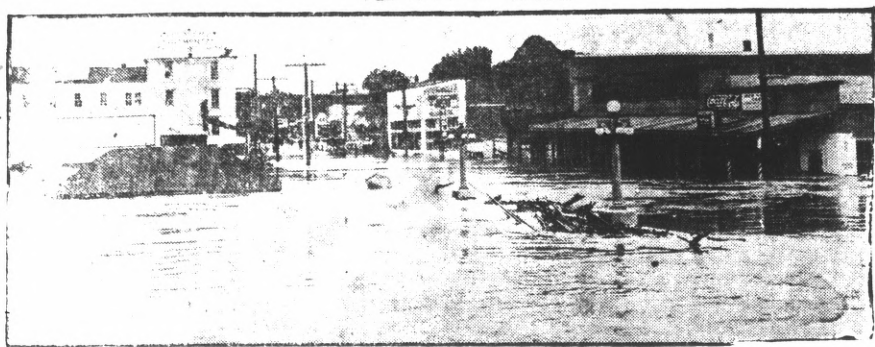

The fliers are expected to make the round trip to America and back within ten days if weather favors them. The return route may be plotted farther to the north passing near Newfoundland.

GERMANY TO ACCEPT PLAN

BERLIN, June 21.—(UP)—The German cabinet, after conferring with Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister, decided today to accept the Owen D. Young plan of reparations settlement as a basis for a projected conference between the governments involved.

The decision, which was unanimous, said that "the settlement of all questions left in suspense since the war necessarily must be effected in this connection." Primarily, that would mean withdrawal of Allied troops from the Rhineland.

PEACH PRICE PACT TO BE MADE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—According to officials of the Canners' League of California and the Canning and Peach Growers' associations, an attempt will be made to agree on the price of 1929 peaches next week.

The growers ask $80 a ton for grade A. This is declared excessive by canners, but no commercial proposal has been offered yet after several meetings of the canners' committee.

Individual canning companies have agreed independently for the canning of the Apricot crop. The price schedule is as follows:
For San Benito, Santa Clara, Contra Costa and Alameda counties, 12 apricots to pound and larger, $75 per ton; 12 to 14 $50 per ton; 14 to 16, $37.50 per ton; 16 and over, $1 per ton.
For Solano, Yolo and Sacramento counties, up to 14 to pound $50 a ton, 14 to 16 to pound, $49 per ton, over 16, $1 a ton.
For Stanislaus county, up to 12 to pound, $60 per ton; 12 to 14 to pound, $50 per ton.

Duplication Of Rail Services Hit By Shoup

STOCKTON, June 21.—Duplication of Southern Pacific's adequate rail facilities in northern California was challenged as uneconomic in a speech made before the chamber of commerce here today by Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific. Shoup said that there must be volume to support service over any one railroad and that too many railroads do not make for good service to the shipping and traveling public.

Shoup has carried the message of Southern Pacific's immeasurable value as one of California's outstanding developmental agencies in promoting the welfare of the west, in talks this week to the San Francisco and Sacramento chambers of commerce. In both of those communities, according to President Shoup, Southern Pacific is the largest home town industry, both in investments and personnel.

MURDER FARM HUNT TO BE RESUMED

PORTERVILLE, June 21.—As the result of a letter received here today, Sheriff R. L. Hill of Tulare county was more convinced than ever Mrs. George Franklin and her son had been murdered by her husband.

Mrs. Arthur Tangeman, of Roco, Neb., sister of Mrs. Franklin, asked in a letter that the investigation at the Franklin ranch be continued. Digging operations will be continued as soon as the White river reaches its low mark, according to Sheriff Hill.
E. C. Frye, local contractor to whom Mrs. Tangeman wrote asking that the search be pressed, also told the sheriff that Mrs. Franklin was in constant fear of her husband at the time he was working on a neighboring ranch house, and she was helping him. She disappeared a few days later, the sheriff was informed.

DAVIS FAMILY LEAVES
Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Davis of the West Side left recently for a visit to their old home in Franklin, Pa. Some time will be spent visiting relatives in Chicago, and on their way West they will stop at Grand Canyon and Los Angeles. They will be gone three months.

The Year Is Half Gone!

Today, in the middle of the vacation season and with one-half of the year behind us, the Chamber of Commerce pauses to look at the past and the future.

1. A membership campaign has been held which added nearly two score new members to the rolls.
2. A long series of constructive meetings were held between Chamber of Commerce leaders, city officials, and representatives of shipping concerns, manufacturers and others, through which Richmond was made a port of call for steamers and arrangements were made for routing large quantities of cargo through this port.
3. Work progressed steadily on the new Parr-Richmond facility on the inner harbor, until now the end is in sight and we know this great new building will be ready for occupancy in August.
4. Practically every committee in the Chamber has been active in the study of the problems allotted to it, and attendance at the meetings of the directors continues close to the 100 per cent mark.

Such are a few high lights of the past six months. Let us judge the next half year by the one just closing and continue our optimistic viewpoint about our city and the part the Chamber of Commerce is playing in its upbuilding.
